All proposed water conveyance and impoundment facilities and project place of use (irrigated agriculture and wetland areas) shall be designed to avoid any disturbances to the known cultural resources. Any areas of proposed development that have not been subject to cultural resource survey shall have such survey work completed prior to the commencement of any construction activities. All mitigation/avoidance recommendations resulting from these cultural resource surveys shall be implemented prior to the initiation of construction activities. Previous cultural resource surveys completed within the SVWA shall be amended by completing documentation (i.e., formal site records) of all of those cultural resources identified that meet the minimal standards for site designation set by the State Office of Historic Preservation.

The continuing authority of the SWRCB may be exercised by imposing specific requirements over and above those contained in this license with a view to eliminating waste of water and to meeting the reasonable water requirements of licensee without unreasonable draft on the source. Licensee may be required to implement a water conservation plan, features of which may include but not necessarily be limited to:

(1) reusing or reclaiming the water allocated; (2) using water reclaimed by another entity instead of all or part of the water allocated; (3) restricting diversions so as to eliminate agricultural tailwater or to reduce return flow; (4) suppressing evaporation losses from water surfaces; (5) controlling phreatophytic growth; and (6) installing, maintaining, and operating efficient water measuring devices to assure compliance with the quantity limitations of this license and to determine accurately water uses against reasonable water requirements for the authorized project. No action will be taken pursuant to this paragraph unless the SWRCB determines, after notice to affected parties and opportunity for hearing, that such specific requirements are physically and financially feasible and are appropriate to the particular situation.

The continuing authority of the SWRCB also may be exercised by imposing further limitations on the diversion and use of water by the licensee in order to protect public trust uses. No action will be taken pursuant to this paragraph unless the SWRCB determines, after notice to affected parties and opportunity for hearing, that such action is consistent with California Constitution Article X, Section 2; is consistent with the public interest and is necessary to preserve or restore the uses protected by the public trust.
